

Items for the Daily Log - 11 February 1953

1. Colonel White informed Mr. Pforzheimer that [redacted] had been returned by the Senate Armed Services Committee to the Department of Defense but might be returned to the Committee at its meeting on 11 February. Mr. Pforzheimer went directly to the Hill with [redacted] of Training and ascertained that the Committee had returned several construction projects to the Department of Defense for review in connection with the order of the Bureau of the Budget and the Secretary of Defense that these projects all be revised in view of desired economy. * [redacted] felt that an attempt should be made to have the project approved today, and so we talked with Chairman Saltonstall and General Mudge of the Committee Staff. The Chairman stated that having written this letter it appeared advisable to him to have the Secretary of Defense write the Committee that the project had been reviewed and reapproved in which case it would be quickly passed by the Committee. Mr. Pforzheimer informed the Chairman that it was our project and that we would stand behind it and also made arrangements with Mr. Adams, Deputy General Counsel, Department of Defense, to clear the necessary letters. The Chairman also stated that he desired to check on the cost figures.
